Chief Rector's Message

Greetings to all the students!

In these days of totally urbanized atmosphere, the MGM Campus is like a breath of fresh air set amidst lush greenery and with a highly surcharged interactive atmosphere between students, faculties and mentors.

We strive to offer an atmosphere for students to help them lead a comfortable life on the campus and pursue their studies in a pleasant, homely environment. The hostel life of students is a significant part of their life where they live away from their parents, experience a newfound independence, make new friends, expand their horizon of activities, and learn to make their own decisions.

Throughout life, students remember the time they have spent in hostels during their studies.

The hostel is looked after by the warden and residential warden who are responsible for making vital decisions for the smooth running and maintenance of hostels and maintaining discipline in hostels. While we ensure that good campus life is provided to the students, at the same time, students have the responsibility to abide by the rules of the hostel that are very important and must be followed in totality. Following rules makes our life disciplined, which brings a positive, permanent chemical change that precipitates into self-discipline for the rest of our life.

Students can contact their wardens any time to discuss any hostel related matter or any personal matter at any given point of time. Therefore, while leading a disciplined life in hostels, the students must ensure that there is no incident of ragging. A healthy atmosphere is promoted on the campus, where students have a friendly interaction with each other and help each other.

I extend my hearty welcome to all the entrants in the MGM University hostels. I wish them a happy and healthy campus life, and I wish that they make their great careers for themselves and be worthy to serve the country.

Thanking you and with regards!

Mrs. Prerana S. Dalvi
Chief Rector
